FEBRUARY

2015

Dear Parents, students and well wishers,

With the academic session drawing to a close and the emphasis shifting to completion of syllabus, the month of February saw a flurry of activities taking place in the Primary segment.

Connecting School Partnership

Programme:

'Connecting School Partnership', conducted by the British Council, was designed to help our students understand global themes and become responsible citizens. DPS (North) in collaboration with Bromstone Primary School, Kent (UK), in keeping with the unstated but comprehensive approach to such projects, took upon itself to maximise the learning value. This was done by comprehensively including all components related to global issues with a view to contribute towards building a sustainable world through various projects.

The projects this year revolved around Sports and consumption of healthy food. Two teachers from Bromstone School visited our school and were involved in activities related to food and sports. They were given an expose on the broad ranging diversity and uniqueness of Indian lifestyles and food habits. Traditional cuisines of different states of India were served to them by children dressed in respective traditional attire. The healthy Indian food platter was also presented to showcase the activity on "Balanced Diet". The visiting teachers were enthused by all the sporting activities conducted in the School. Needless to mention, they thoroughly enjoyed the entire experience and were all praises for our students and dedicated staff!

CCA in the primary segment:

The students of classes 1, 2 and 3 showcased their talents in their respective segments. The activities involved mask making and Rangoli competition. Inspired by the festival of colours, they made beautiful and colourful patterns thus leaving everybody spellbound with their creativity. The pictures bear testament to their talent and commitment!!!

The students of classes 4 and 5 were engaged in a verbal battle in the final round of the Debate Competition where they captivated everybody with their oratory skills. The topic for debate was "Television is better than books". While some spoke in favour of books, others felt that television was a more educative and powerful audio-visual medium. It was a very stimulating and enriching experience for everyone present there.

Kaleidoscope:

Kaleidoscope, the annual event showcasing the various creative skills mastered by the primary students during their hobby classes was organised and conducted with great fervour on the 19th of February. The students proudly displayed all that they had learnt such as paper flower making, decorative pots, Glass and Fabric Painting, Cooking without as well as with Fire, projects and models in Eco and Little Scientist's club, Western Dance, Aerobics, Karate etc. These hobby classes arouse children's curiosity, explores their hidden talents and brings out the multi-faceted personality in them. The pictures show their commitment and enthusiasm towards these creative skills.....
