

MARCH 2016

Dear Parents, students and well-wishers,

The onset of March was welcomed by all with mixed feelings. Whilst the forthcoming Summer Break was looked forward to with joy, excitement and relief, the thought of a wonderful academic session coming to an end, brought a tinge of melancholia. It is this eclectic mix of emotions that makes school and the healthy interaction with one and all such a wonderful experience.

UCL Trainee Teacher's Visit

DPS, Bangalore (North) opened its doors to the team of Trainee Teachers of UCL who came into the welcoming environs of the School. These Teachers interacted with all the students, helping them to undertake their class assignments like writing and solving sums. They thoroughly enjoyed play time and hands on activities with the children. They adored the dance presented by the students in the class. Needless to mention, the children were thrilled to interact with them and learning more about their country, culture, food habits, festivals etc.

The visiting teachers carried out a critical appreciation of the academic structure and found it to be robust and well structured. They truly appreciated the writing skills and the knowledge base that our children exhibited. They appreciated the class discipline and teacher-child bonding. This exchange of knowledge and sharing of different teaching framework was an enriching experience for all.

Kaleidoscope

Kaleidoscope, the annual event showcasing the various creative skills, mastered by students of Primary Segment during their hobby classes was conducted with great fervour on 26th February, 2016. The students proudly displayed all that they had learnt during the academic year such as different forms of paintings, Art work, Sudoku, Science models, Culinary skills, Tie and Dye, Oratory skills, Aerobics, Dramatics, Classical music, Yoga etc. They also presented a very engaging Street Play on Water Pollution.

These hobby classes arouse children's curiosity and explores their hidden talents. It also endeavours to bring out the multifaceted personality in them. The pictures enclosed bear testimony to their enthusiasm and commitment towards these creative skills.

With the onset of March also comes the examination fever which has students, parents and teachers alike, labouring with books and burning the midnight oil. To minimise stress, teachers persevered indefatigably over the entire academic period to ensure that the classes were balanced appropriately to avoid undue stress. Consequently, it also instilled confidence in students to handle exams with minimal struggle. Students who needed extra help were catered for with effective remedial classes. It is our unstated but definitive objective to nurture the true potential of each child and to create lifelong learners and future global leaders, capable of ushering in a better tomorrow!

Good Luck Children! May you scale every peak and excel with flying colours in all your endeavours!!!

ADIEU STUDENTS

The final day at School was a heart-warming one when we observed students leave their classes with eyes swimming. Bidding adieu is always a painful experience for students and teachers alike but alas life's journey is all about moving on and move we must!

We wish all the parents and students a great Summer Vacation. May it be a safe, memorable and fun-filled one.

We look forward to your cooperation in the next academic session as well.

With Best Wishes and Prayers,

Manju Balasubramanyam,

Principal, DPS North
