SENIOR PRINCIPAL'S

NEWSLETTER FOR AUGUST 2016

From the Principal's Desk.....

“If we teach today's students, as we taught yesterday,
We rob them of their tomorrow “

Dear Parents and Patrons

As conscientious educators or learning facilitators of the 21st century, it is but imperative that we walk in tandem with the latest teaching- learning practices that promotes and facilitates better learning for our students. At DPS North the teacher goes beyond the confines of providing content, facts and theories to the students. She facilitates a learning atmosphere wherein the student learns to validate, synthesize and communicate whatever they have learnt. We strongly focus on learner centred classrooms that promote personalized information to enhance skill development.

To achieve the above the school conducts a plethora of activities and fests throughout the year to help students to learn by doing. The entire month of August was celebrated as the Science Month “Aurum “, the fest had a special theme wherein science was integrated with sports.

‘Impressions ‘2016, was organized by the 11th and 12th graders in the second week of the month. Students from various schools participated in different events. The fest was a huge success and the efforts put in by the students were laudable.

As a part of the science month activities, students of class 10th performed ‘Jalaneti’, under the guidance of the yoga teachers. Jalaneti, is an age old practice of cleansing the nasal passage to get rid of sinusitis and other related problems.

The school had the honour to host a concert by SPICMACAY featuring the legendary icon, Pandit Hari Prasad Chaurasia ji. Panditji and his team left the audience in a trance. It was an extremely humbling experience to see and hear him whispering to the wind, as he created magic with his mesmerising music.

High school students were part of a trekking trip to Kopatty in Coorg. The trek was organised by India Hikes. It was an enriching experience for the students, they experienced village life and also learnt how village life is self-sustainable.

In addition to the above, special assemblies were conducted where students spoke about child labour and right to education. They debated, interjected and agreed upon diverse topics.

I extend my heartfelt thanks to the parents and Patrons of DPSBN for being our pillar of support.

Thank you

God Bless!

With Best Wishes,

Manju Balasubramanyam,

Principal, DPSBN
